The Journal for Christian Theological Research. [<http://apu.edu/CTRF/jctr.html>]

I was the founding editor of this journal (1996) and served as its senior editor until 1999. I served as associate editor from 1999 to 2001. From 2001 until the Fall of 2002 I served on the editorial board and was a reader for the journal. In the Fall of 2002 I was asked to return to active management and I resumed work as managing editor until the Fall of 2003. I am currently on the editorial board.

The Journal for Christian Theological Research (JCTR) is an organ of the Christian Theological Research Fellowship in association with the Systematic Theology Group of the American Academy of Religion. The JCTR is a refereed and indexed journal in systematic and moral theology.

The Christian Theological Research Fellowship. [<http://apu.edu/CTRF/index.html>]

I was the original webmaster for the Christian Theological Research Fellowship and served in that capacity from 1996 until 1998.

The CTRF is a distinctively Christian research organization in systematic and moral theology, and related disciplines. The society exists to promote and sustain fellowship and truth-seeking (fides quaerens intellectum) in theological reflection upon the Christian faith, within the mainstream of the Christian tradition. We see ourselves as a spiritual fellowship in service to the Church of Messiah Jesus.

The Christian Scholar's Review.

I have on several occasions served as a referee for the Christian Scholar's Review.

Professional Memberships

Catholic Biblical Society.

Society of Biblical Literature.

I currently serve as the chairman of the Computer Assisted Research Section of the Society.

Christian Theological Research Fellowship.

Technical Expertise

I have extensive experience working with PC hardware. I can build a PC from scratch, trouble-shoot, and repair.

I am familiar with several standard operating systems. I have used DOS since version 2.1, and am thoroughly conversant with Windows XP. I have a rudimentary knowledge of UNIX systems and Mac systems.

I am experienced with basic productivity software, such as Microsoft Office (including Word, PowerPoint, and Outlook).

I am experienced with numerous aspects of the Internet:

- I have used email since 1992, have used UNIX clients such as pine, and currently use Microsoft Outlook.
- I am experienced with numerous telnet clients, FTP clients, and web browsers. I used the original Mosaic and have used every version of Netscape, including numerous Betas.
- I am experienced with HTML. I was the one of the first people at Azusa Pacific to create a web site (by hand). I have experimented with numerous web authoring tools including Netscape Communicator, Hot Dog, Hot Metal, Claris Home Page, Web Edit, Front Page, Web Express, and others. I have posted instructions for the creation and posting of a web-site at <http://apu.edu/~kreeves/home.html>.

- I am familiar with several course management systems, including Top Class, Blackboard, Ecollege, and WebCT. Course management systems assist in the development and management of online courses.
- I was the founding editor and publisher of a web-based journal, The Journal for Christian Theological Research, begun in 1996 (<http://apu.edu/~CTRF/jctr.html>).

I served on Azusa Pacific University's Teaching Learning Technology Roundtable. This committee was commissioned to provide guidance to the management of the technology resources of the university.

I currently serve on the University Information Management Committee. This committee is responsible for all technology funding at the university.

I have experience with numerous other software applications.

University Involvement

I have served on the following committees and service bodies of the University:

- Faculty Senate
- The Teaching Learning Technology Roundtable
- The Graduate School of Theology library committee
- The Graduate School of Theology computer committee
- Task Force on Transformational Scholarship
- The University Information Management Committee

I routinely assist my colleagues with computer related questions.

I participated in Project Barnabas in order to enhance my teaching. Project Barnabas is a cooperative teaching experience in which two professors participate and critique each other's classes.

Church and Community Involvement

I assist in my local church in the following capacities:

- pulpit supply
- serving communion
- teaching Sunday School (adult and children)
- leading Bible studies
- reading scripture
- twice a year I lead a team to build a house in Mexico.

Over the years I have had numerous involvements in the community and in the school system, both public and private. I have taken an active roll in my local school and PTA. I was elected by the parents of Roynon Elementary School to serve on the school site council, a body which helps set school policy (1995-2001). I also served as chair of that body (1997-2001). I served on the school's technology committee and worked extensively to develop the infrastructure and to upgrade the computers at the school. I was parent representative to the Ramona Middle School Gate committee (1998-2001).

I have coached an AYSO girl's soccer team.

I served on the Bonita Unified School District Budget Advisory Committee (2001). This body of teachers, parents, and staff were responsible for evaluating and giving input to the 63 million dollar budget of the district.

I served on the board of Light and Life Christian School, Azusa, CA (1994-1996).
