On-Campus Jobs

Laboratory Teacher Assistant

Laboratory teacher assistants assist instructors during the laboratory period by helping students to complete their laboratory exercises, monitoring the lab preparation, replenishing supplies as necessary, assisting in lab cleanup and the supervision of student safety, and other duties as assigned. Assisting in a lab is a good way to solidify your own knowledge as you help students learn scientific concepts.

See <http://www.apu.edu/clas/biochem/experience/jobs/> for current openings and contact information.

Course Grader

Course graders correct assignments, quizzes, and/or tests for their specified course during the semester. They work under the supervision of the course instructor to determine student assignment expectations and may keep a record of the grades.

See <http://www.apu.edu/clas/biochem/experience/jobs/> for current openings and contact information.

Peer-Led Team Learning Leader - General Chemistry

Peer-led team learning (PLTL) leaders conduct weekly two-hour workshop sessions for general chemistry. They attend weekly workshop training courses, and are expected to complete all assigned work for the course. In addition, they prepare for workshop sessions and informally evaluate the progress of group members.

See <http://www.apu.edu/clas/biochem/experience/jobs/> for current openings and contact information.

Lab Assistant - Biology or Chemistry

Lab assistants help with the set-up of lab experiments, including the preparation of solutions, performing basic maintenance on equipment, and performing other specialized duties around the department as assigned. The lab assistant must be able to work independently and show initiative.

See <http://www.apu.edu/clas/biochem/experience/jobs/> for current openings and contact information.

Dishwasher

Dishwashers wash glass and dishware and put it away. They are responsible for keeping dishwashing areas neat and clean and for checking dishwashing areas around the department for items to be washed or areas to be cleaned. Occasionally, they are asked to perform other lab maintenance duties as assigned by the lab manager, chemistry stockroom manager, or lab technician.

See <http://www.apu.edu/clas/biochem/experience/jobs/> for current openings and contact information.
