Appendix A: Biography

Dr. Kinon received his Ph.D. in Social/Personality Psychology from the University of California Riverside (UCR) in 2012. He earned his University Teaching Certificate in 2011 and was named an Outstanding Teaching Assistant by Graduate Division in 2012. Dr. Kinon has been working as a Statistical Analyst for the San Bernardino County Probation Department since 2012; he earned a Chief's Award in 2014 "For commitment, dedicated service and outstanding performance" as well as a Certificate of Appreciation in 2017 for his work on Continuum of Care Reform. While working for the department, Dr. Kinon has taught at California State University San Bernardino, San Bernardino Valley College, Citrus College, and Azusa Pacific University; accepting an Assistant Professor appointment at Azusa Pacific University (APU) in 2016. Marc has taught over 60 courses including: Introductory Psychology, Statistics for the Behavioral Sciences, Data Analysis in Psychology, Research Methods, Advanced Research Methods, Health Psychology, Personality Psychology, Social Psychology, Industrial/Organizational Psychology, Cultural Psychology, Counseling Psychology, Abnormal Psychology, Psychology and Christianity (Senior Seminar), as well as Group Internship. Dr. Kinon was elected to the Association for Criminal Justice Research board of directors in March 2018 and, subsequently, was elected to the post of Vice President of Southern California. In this role, he organized a conference titled: "Innovative Criminal Justice Research & Practice." Conference panel titles include: Data to the People! The Benefits and Challenges of Public Data; Current Trends in Criminal Justice Research and Practice; Interpersonal Violence on College Campuses and in the Community: Using Research to Inform Best Practices; Barriers and Solutions in Co-Occurring Care of Criminal Justice Populations; Issues of Memory and Suggestibility in the Criminal Justice System. In March 2019, Dr. Kinon completed a 10-week Professional Entrepreneur Course through the Inland Empire Center for Entrepreneurship (IECE) and CSU San Bernardino. As he was writing his business plan, he came to the realization that there are many psychological as well as Christian ideas that have not reached the people. To address this problem he started writing a line of "Children's" books to creatively and succinctly convey important psychological and Christian concepts; this is how he has been Called to live out the Great Commission. Dr. Kinon publishing his first book called "Dance! Dance!" in September 2020. This book highlights the social psychological concept of Conformity and is dedicated to his three year old son Maximus; who also happens to be the main character. In the near future, he looks forward to collaborating with his wife, Catherina, who recently graduated with her BS in Nutrition and Food Sciences.

88th Semi-Annual Meeting, October 25th & 26th, 2018
Innovative Criminal Justice Research & Practice

CONFERENCE PROGRAM

OUR ASSOCIATION

The Association for Criminal Justice Research (California) is a dynamic mix of public servants, academics, analysts, practitioners, evaluators, and students. These diverse groups are united by the common interest of looking at criminal justice issues from a data-driven perspective.

OUR CONFERENCES

ACJR-CA has two meetings every year, a spring conference in the north and a fall conference in the south, covering important and timely issues of interest to the California criminal justice community (learn more at www.acjrca.org).
